DETAILED ACTION

Claims 5-15 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend on another multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims 5-15 not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claims 14 and 15 refer to Figures 1-4 of the drawings and are required to be redefined in proper format to depend on specific claimed limitations.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Thrash 5,801,914 in view of Hess 3,360,631. Thrash teaches the claimed subject matter except for showing use of heating of the conductors that supply power to the PTC heater to enable a proper bond of the conductors to the PTC element. It should be noted that the claim language does not specify that the heating occurs during manufacture, as defined in the disclosure, and the present claim language does not preclude the heating occurring during operation of the heater, subsequent to manufacture. In addition the patent to Hess has been applied for teaching that it is conventional to heat a connection in a ptc to wire device during manufacture to enable a superior bond of the ptc element to the wire conductor and in view of this teaching it would have been obvious to modify the Thrash patent to use heating of the conductor wires during fabrication, to enhance the bond of the connection of the wire to the ptc heater. It is considered obvious to use ohmic heating to heat in lieu of an additional heater, as defined, barring definition in the claims that the conductors are capable of providing ohmic heating and barring disclosure of current levels in the conductor's capable or attaining heat sufficient to effect such bond.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Ayer et al, Crowley and Henschen et al are cited for disclosing heating patents of interest to the disclosed invention.
